Compliance	In the Compliance section, paragraph b), the grace period for jacks close to or already in excess of 55,000 flight cycles is shown as 1 September 2008. This does not align with use of the term "limited period" in the 'Reason' section, and BAE Systems believes that the EASA intended to specify 1 September 2007. BAE Systems can advise that a program has been prepared to ensure the replacement parts can be supplied and installed on all affected aircraft by this earlier date.
