Comment # 1

The TYPE/MODEL DESIGNATION field refers only to AS332 Helicopters, whereas this AD is also applicable to the EC225 LP.

The applicability to the EC225 LP is mentioned solely within the Applicability section of the AD.

We confirm that the information related to the EC225 LP is correctly reflected:

- under the Approval Holder field in the List of Mandatory Airworthiness Information published on the EASA Europa website, and
- in the Bi-weekly report.

Nevertheless, this presentation could lead to misinterpretation or incorrect applicability assessment, particularly in the context of continuing airworthiness monitoring, when the review is performed based only on the Type/Model Designation field without a detailed reading of the AD content.

EASA response:

Comment agreed. The AD is revised to add the EC225 designation in the TYPE/MODEL DESIGNATION field.
