

EASA Safety Information Notice

No.: 2008-22

Issued: 12 March 2008

Subject: Wheel and brake assemblies and aircraft accessories that have been improperly maintained and returned to service

Ref. Publication: FAA Unapproved Parts Notification (UPN) No. 2007-00139.

Introduction: The Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) has published the referenced UPN (attached as pages 2 through 12 of this notice) as a result of an investigation that revealed that various aircraft accessories and wheel and brake assemblies have been improperly maintained and returned to service, contrary to regulations.

Applicability: Any aircraft which have accessories and/or wheel and brake assemblies installed, as identified in the attached FAA UPN. The FAA has not determined the aircraft type designs on which these components are (intended to be) installed.

Recommendation: This Safety Information Notice is for information only.
